Haines Centre releases the Training Module Toolbox; A Unique Systems Thinking Approach to Management and Leadership Training

San Diego, 2011- Stephen Haines and the Haines Centre for Strategic Management introduce their unique Training Modules Toolbox; the very first toolbox of its kind based on best practice research of the Systems Thinking Approach® to Strategic Management. This toolbox is found nowhere else in the world as it is the natural way the world works. It is a most integrated and holistic framework for leaders and managers in dealing with virtually all issues and situations within an organization. The toolbox contains 65 Systems Thinking based 1- 1 ½ hour training module tools and applications. It includes over 190 research based articles, models and assessments. It is essential for any trainer, consultant or facilitator looking to improve their entire organizational efficiency and effectiveness in our dynamic and complex global economy.

The Haines Centre is a Global Alliance of master consultants, founded in 1990 with offices in over 25 countries. They are the world leaders in Strategic Management powered by Systems Thinking. Stephen Haines has dedicated his life to understanding and researching the universal framework and guide of systems thinking, and is excited to extend his research discoveries and knowledge to the world. The Toolbox's tools and applications have 21 years of proven performance behind them at the Haines Centre to help make any company or organization thrive. These training modules allow the organization to maximize 9 strategic management topics:

1. Systems Thinking
2. Reinventing Strategic Planning
3. Enterprise-Wide Change
4. Creating the People Edge
5. Achieving Leadership Excellence
6. Becoming Customer-Focused
7. Aligning Your Delivery
8. Creating Customer Value
9. Cultural of Performance Excellence

Our trademark is improved clarity, simplicity and speed of execution. The Training Modules Toolbox kit has 65 tools and applications that are an absolute necessity for any organization trying to survive and prosper in the 21st century.
